

The International School of Ulm/Neu-Ulm is an international all-day school based on the guidelines of the International Baccalaureate Organisation (IBO). Serving students from 40 nationalities, ISU offers an educational programme in English for students from ages 3 to 18.

The following position is available immediately:

Middle and Upper School
Science and Physics Teacher (IB DP)
Full-Time Position - Limited till 31.07.2027, extension possible

We are looking for an inquiry-driven Science educator with strong subject knowledge and a calm, practical classroom style. Your concept-based and lab-rich teaching is differentiated to meet the needs of diverse learners - and you use formative assessment to build student confidence and guide progress. You are a reflective team-player who communicates clearly with students and families, runs safe, well-planned investigations, and contributes to wider school life and STEM initiatives.

Your Profile:

- Degree in Physics (or closely related field) plus a recognised teaching qualification
- Successful experience teaching IB DP Physics (HL/SL) or a comparable pre-university course
- Experience teaching Grade 6-10 General Science (IGCSE and Middle School Science)
- Skilled at integrating ATL skills, inquiry, technology and data/uncertainty routines into lessons and labs.
- Confident guiding the IA with academic integrity and giving precise, criteria-aligned feedback
- Collaborative, student-oriented, and committed to safeguarding and well-being

Why ISU?

- We cover your flight from the place of hire and provide moving allowance
- Relocation Support from our HR Team to ensure a smooth transition
- Professional Development opportunities
- Regular Staff Events
- Great location near the beautiful city of Ulm, with good public transport connections
- You will be part of a supportive international community with a collaborative and professional work culture

Please apply no later than October 30, 2025, preferably by email.
